

Soldiers Wearing Under Their Uniform Caps Knitted Woolen Caps Sent as Gifts by Women Sympathizers. Thousands of These Woolen Helmets Have Been Made by American Women Who Have Been Untiring in Their Efforts to Add a Little Comfort to the Men on the Firing Line.

Sheepskin Coats for Soldiers. Most of the German Troops on the Western Frontier Are Being Supplied with These Coats. They Have Copied This Costume from the Russians and Cossacks, Who Use Them for Ordinary Winter Wear. All the Hides Available Have Been Taken by the Government for This Use.